which upset them to such an extent that be used in that series.

It was thought there might be a possibility of Griffith sending Boehling back today, as he deserved a better fate than he received yesterday. The decisions of Hildebrand and O'Loughlin were so off color that had they been different the Griffith and thay been different the Griffith and thay been different the Griffith and they been different the Griffith and thay a trial in any games until later in the year, but who will be carried as the brand was absolutely wrong in the did not call a balk when Boehling threw to first base, but waited until Gandil was proved by the fact that he did not call a balk when Boehling threw to first base, but waited until Gandil was run down and retired before he made his ruling. The rules provide that as soon as a pitcher committs a balk the umpire must immediately advance the runners. This Hildebrand did not do and it was not until the Cleveland players gathered around him and called out that Boehling had balked, after Gandil had been put out, that he made his ruling.

Ten years ago today, a tall, rawboned youth faced the Tigers, championship winners of the American League that year, and though he lost his game, he created the impression that he had the making of one of the greatest pitchers that ever lived. The individual was Walter Johnson, who is today celebrating the tenth anniversary of his entrance into fast company. Detroit did not beast Johnson that day by hitting him, but he was a green boy, and the free runs scored against him were the direct result of a bunting system which the Tigers employed when they found that they could not hit Johnson's speed. Walter was a mere boy then, and three runs resulted from the baffling bunts, while his own team got but two tallies.

Lindley Murray, the Californian, who holds the national infoor singles title; Ichiya Kumagae, the Japanese star, who recently won the Mikami, another oriental player, who has appeared in a number of important tournaments. Although New Yorkers had seen Murray before, the oriental players had never exhibited on a local court until yesterday. Both their matches attracted hig galleries. Kumagae had little trouble winning his first and second round matches. He did not have diffiwarner at 5—1, 6—2, and in the second round he disposed of E. H. Kirkland at 6—2, 7—5.

Mikami had as his opponent in the second round Geoge Stadel, whom he defeated at 5—2, 6—3. Murray, who expects to compete in the east versus wast matches, which start at the West Bide Club on Friday afternoon, received only a good workout in his match with J. A. Richards, whom he defeated at 6—1, 6—0.

The big gallery at the Kumagae-Kirkland contests saw the little Japanese far from his best form. Apparently he felt that his opponents were not in his class, and experimented a bit, forsaking his heavily topped driving game and his base-line placing in favor of the net. He was unsteady at all times in the match with Kirkland, and frequently so wild that he drove the ball far over the heads of the spectators. In the final set, when defeat seemed in the match with Kirkland, and fregren to the settled down, and by resorting to the style he knows best was able to take the necessary games.

CLEVELAND, August 2.—Manager Griffith did not make a positive selection this morning for pitching duty in the final game of the series with the Indians today, but it is in all probability his intention to work Bert Gallia. Gallia has had three days' rest since he was beaten last Saturday, and Fohl's men are not likely to find him the easy mark they did then. Griffith intends to use Walter Johnson to open the fray against the White Sox in Chicago tomorrow and Harper and Shaw also will be used in that series.

It was thought there might be a lime Mackmen dangerously near, Johnson pitched a game against the Mackmen, and in the second inning a couple of errors, a couple of bases on balls and a few hits gave the visitors six runs. So elated that they had beaten Johnson, they yelled at Joe Cantillon, who was then in charge of the team, "Save your young star for us, will you! We're much obliged." This stung Cantillon, and he decided there and then that he would repeat with Johnson the next day. He did, and the Mackmen were beaten 1 to 0 in nine innings, a game which would have given them the lead in the race, but which upset them to such an extent that the Tigers won out by a very comfortable margin.

LUSE ON DECISIONS

Rulings by Umpires Give Cleveland Game, 6 to 1.

Triples in Ninth and Scores When Chapman Makes a Wild Throw.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, August 2.- A se-CLEVELAND, Ohio, August 2.—A series of apparently unfair decisions by Umpires Hildebrand and O'Loughlin prevented the Nationals from scoring several runs in the first two innings of yesterday's game and paved the way for a 6-to-1 victory for the Indians. In the very first inning O'Loughlin distinguished himself by calling Moeller out at third base. Moeller had started the game with a two-base hit to left centure ter. Foster fouled a couple, and then struck out. While Milan was at bat O'Neil had a half-passed ball, and Moeller slid into third, O'Neil's throw plainity being late. O'Loughlin, however, called Moeller out, and then Milan singled, and Moeller should have scored. Rice hit a grounder toward second which hit Milan, and the side was out.

Williams led off the second inning with a three-base hit, and when Morgan droves a long five along the left foul ways found a solution; sometimes my opponent's strength gives out in the second set. This is nearly all-ways the case with girls that affect the very hard complex service. Take a position to receive service well behind the base line, from whence you can command either line of the service court. If you stand too far to one side it will be difficult to reach a swift ball cutting the other line—and that is where a clever server will give you the ball. The strength of your backhand more or less determines you mostition and in any event you will try to return with a forehand drive. The cultivation of a good backhand makes it doubly difficult for the server to put the ball out of your reach.

Services which have spins and break right or left are harder to handle, because the ball will not leave your racquet true, but most of these services will respond to careful timing; you may have to experiment so to the best way of hitting, and in the course of your experiments you may lose the set. ries of apparently unfair decisions by game, 3 to 2, despite the fact that Hendrix held the home team down to one hit. The prize decision by Hildebrand retired and Gandil singled to left. Boehling caught Gandil napping off first, and after some chasing up and cided that Boehling had balked and motioned Gandil to second. This motioned Gandil to second. This caused Boehling's undoing, and Turner's double and O'Neil's single, together with walks to Graney and Chapman and a hit by Roth, gave the Indians five runs, when but for the balk Boehling would no doubt have gotten out of the inning without being scored on.

In the third inning Wamby doubled and Morgan made a mess of Gandil's grounder; then, after Turner had fanned, O'Neill squeezed Wamby home.

That was the last run the Indians got.

National Tennis Champion Defeats Armstrong and Gains Leg on Challenge Bowl.

BOSTON, August 2.-Playing the flery game that is nine-tenths of his winning tennis, excepting the third set, William M. Johnston of San Francisco, the national champion, defeated Joseph J. Armstrong of Philadelphia yesterday at the Longwood Cricket Club for the Longwood challenge bowl, 6-0, 6-3, 2-6, 6-2. It was the conquest of a rounded game off the ground as well as overhead against a player with but two effective strokes. The moral effect of winning the first set in eleven minutes plainly had its effect on Armstrong. By his victory Johnston gained a leg on the trophy, as last year's winner, M. E. McLoughlin of San Francisco, will not defend.

Johnston's fiery attack overwhelmed Armstrong in the first two sets. Both at the net and in the back court the champion was invincible when going at top speed, but in the third set he tired rapidly as a result of losing seven and a half pounds in his match against W. ing sun. In this set he made little offort to get the deep drives which Armstrong placed in the far corners.
